

2022 -2023 Grant Writing Workshop (GWW) Series

The Georgetown-Howard Universities Center for Clinical and Translational Science (GHUCCTS) TL1 Translational Biomedical Science (TBS) program is offering a 6-month Grant Writing Workshop Series for predoctoral students and postdoctoral fellows, and junior faculty.

The workshops are embedded within our TL1 TBS Thursday evening workshops via Zoom from October 2022 through March 2023 from 5:30-7:30 pm.

Application Requirements:

- Actively working on a new/revised grant application due within the next 12 months;
 - Committed to participating in activities;
 - Ability to meet submission timelines

Talk Topics:

Nuts and bolts of Grant Writing
Developing a Problem Statement and Specific Aims
Research Strategies
How to Write an effective NIH Biosketch
Career Development Plans & Mentorship Plans
Impactful Cover letters & Letters of Support and Collaboration

Register by Monday, October 3, 2022

For the registration link and more information visit our website at

<https://www.translationalbiomedicalscience.org/workshops-and-registrations/>